

“Shall I tell you a secret of a true scholar?
It is this: every man I meet is my master in some point and in that I learn from him.”

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-82)
American writer, philosopher and poet

Pupils in a Jesuit school are growing to be learned, finding God in all things; and wise in the ways they use their learning for the common good.
